WHAT AUSTRALIA CAN LEARN FROM NEW ZEALAND'S COMPASSIONATE RESETTLEMENT OF REFUGEES

Join us at this important FORUM on Saturday 10 September: 2-3.15pm AEST

Attend ONLINE, or IN PERSON at St Paul's Cathedral, corner Swanston & Flinders Street, Melbourne. All attendees are asked to register by Friday 9 September. After registering, you will receive confirmation email containing the link to join the online forum.

Book your ticket here: https://www.trybooking.com/CBUVP

Our special guests in this forum will compare and contrast the way Australia and New Zealand have responded to people who have sought protection by exercising their right to seek asylum under the United Nations Convention on Refugees.

In 2001, the infamous standoff now known as the Tampa Incident brought the attention of the world to Australia's refusal to allow entry to 433 people seeking asylum. The 'Pacific Solution' was scrambled together by the Howard Government and so began two decades of suffering under the much criticised 'offshore processing' regime. Since that time people who travelled by sea to seek asylum in Australia have suffered in appalling conditions in PNG and on Nauru, and continue to be refused permanent settlement here. Thousands are still living with uncertain futures.

Abbas Nazari - Bestselling author and speaker, Abbas Nazari, fled the Taliban in Afghanistan as a child, and was resettled in New Zealand after his family were rescued by the Tampa container ship in 2001, and shortly after were offered safe resettlement by New Zealand. Now a New Zealand citizen, Abbas is Fulbright Scholar and author of the acclaimed book: After the Tampa. Signed copies of the book will be available for purchase after the forum for those attending in person.

Zaki Haidari is a tireless advocate for refugee rights, having himself fled Afghanistan and sought asylum in Australia as an unaccompanied teenager. After nearly 10 years here in Australia, he is still on a temporary protection visa. Zaki has been a leader in the campaign for the resettlement of people from Afghanistan, especially since the return of the Taliban and the renewed oppression of the Hazara minority in Afghanistan. Zaki has recently joined the team at Amnesty International Australia as a Refugee Rights Campaigner.

Dr Claire Loughnan is a Lecturer in Criminology, at the School of Social and Political Sciences, University of Melbourne and Co-convenor of Academics for Refugees. Her research examines the expansion border control practices, and her book on the institutional effects of immigration detention is under contract with Routledge. She is currently exploring practices of 'neglect' as a tool in the externalisation of refugee policies.

Instead of punishing refugees for seeking safety as we currently do, Australia should be offering safe resettlement and treating all people who seek our protection with dignity, fairness and compassion.

Help us to promote - share the FB event on your social media: https://www.facebook.com/events/454176886582012

